*Important Glass Disclaimer Please Read:

Attempting to repair a rock chip in your windshield is the best way to prevent a crack from growing. Although our chip repair is over 99% effective, a rock chip is already a crack in the glass and there are inherent risks when working with broken glass. There is a chance that your windshield could continue to crack during or after the repair process. In the unlikely circumstance that this happens, Techna Glass will refund the full price of your rock chip repair, or credit the full retail price of the repair toward a new windshield replacement.
